Digiarty Implements the Solution to FAST Rip DVD to NAS without Losing Quality

Digiarty, a veteran provider aiming to offer the most available multimedia solutions, recently reinforced WinX DVD Ripper Platinum in the store to rip DVD to NAS more efficiently while maintaining original quality. The enhancement can help users easily and quickly make a digital copy from any DVD for better storage on NAS.

This guide describes how to rip DVD to NAS with WinX DVD Ripper Platinum in detail:

NAS (network-attached storage) is computer server for data storage enabling multiple clients to access the data through network. Without display, keyboard and mouse, NAS is managed with a browser-based utility program. Not only can it store a large amount of data for home users, but it also acts as an email, database or print server for small business. Compared with computer and external hard drive, NAS offers a more powerful way to back up and protect data for whole family. All data is accessible on PC/Mac and portable devices.

“How can I store DVDs into a NAS drive?” is a frequently asked question by DVD collectors. Suggestions figure out digitalizing is a feasible solution. Digital copy features better preservation than optical discs and high compatibility with media players, editors and mobiles if in MP4. In order to accomplish this mission, Digiarty developer team gives a hard work on WinX DVD Ripper Platinum making it an expert to rip DVD to NAS.

WinX DVD Ripper Platinum can handle a wide range of DVDs, covering general home-made discs and commercial DVDs, for example newly released movie DVD, 99-title DVD, workout DVD and more. It supports virtually all mainstream video/audio codecs allowing you to rip DVD to MP4 (H.265, H.264), AVI, WMV, MOV, FLV, 3GP, WebM etc. It can 1:1 clone DVD to VIDEO_TS folder, ISO image or a single MPEG2 file including main title or full title. The support of hardware acceleration (Intel QSV, Nvidia CUDA/NVENC), Hyper-threading tech and Multi-core utility brings an ultimately fast DVD ripping speed to this program, about 10 minutes to rip a 2-hour movie. No matter what output format will be, the digital copy will be presented with crisp images and hi-fi audios.
