How drinking coffee can improve your online business!

Wholesale Industry Reviews has undergone an extreme makeover. Our Staff decided to implement a new design that reflects more of what we do when we spend our time reviewing wholesalers, drop shippers, gathering marketing ideas and providing our visitors with the latest tips and tricks. While we review sites, we tend to drink a fair share of coffee.

To be honest, we must have switched to decaf for a while because we weren't giving the site as much attention that it needed. However, with the new design it should inspire us to drink more coffee and keep the information hot and fresh, just how we like our coffee.

Did you know that drinking coffee has surprisingly good benefits?

A cup or two of coffee can improve endurance in activities such as running, cycling and swimming, according to other research. Coffee has a strong ergogenic effect, meaning it helps people work harder and longer, explains Lawrence Spriet, an exercise physiologist at the University of Guelph who has researched the effects of caffeine on athletic performance for more than a decade. "Even small amounts of caffeine can be quite powerful," he says.

See, the proof is in the coffee, so to say. There hasn't been direct links to how drinking coffee can improve your online business, but it will make you work harder and longer. That is our overall mission at Wholesale Industry Reviews- To Drink More Coffee. By drinking more coffee we mean to keep that website brewed fresh daily. We have included new: information, reviews, tips and tricks to get your ecommerce business running smoothly, links, with a dash of cream and sugar.

Make sure you check out our new design and let us know what you think of the new makeover. We hope you enjoy the information, and make sure to check back for up-to-date drop ship and wholesale news, reviews and information.

We raise our coffee mugs to you!
